—Miss BETSY PENNINGTON has erected at her own expense quite a handsome little school-house in the west end of town, and is now teaching there and has a good number of youngsters, male and female.

—MR. J. B. DUNN, a special examiner of the pension department at Washington, has been in town several days looking for pensions that were thought to be either bogus or unworthy. He goes from here to Bell county on a similar mission.

LOCAL MATTERS.

TO-MORROW is Berthington's Wash-day. PARTIES can be supplied with shelled corn at the Lincoln mill.

IMPORTED GERMAN KRAUT, Pickled Pigs Feet, &c., at McAllister & Bright's.

THERE has been no blood hung in this county since 1858—although more than a hundred men have been slain. Comment is unnecessary.

SAVE COST.—Our business must be settled up before the Quarterly Court in March. We do not want to warrant any body, but we must have our money. McAllister & Lytle.

THE "Favorite Mills" at McKinney are now in full blast, and the enterprise is a big thing for that end of the county. Attention is called to the advertisement of the mills in another column.

BIRDS are swelling, the singing birds are returning, grass is growing finely, and spring is upon us before the last month of winter is gone. No wonder cold dealers are coming down from their winter prices.

A SOLID INSTITUTION.—Ten shares of stock in the National Bank of Stanford, belonging to the estate of John Cash, sold at auction, Saturday, for $141.25 per share. Mr. T. L. Carpenter becoming the purchaser.

WE are informed that the farmers along Hanging Fork, Logan's Creek, Dix River, and even much smaller streams in this county, lost thousands of rails, many peeps, shock fowls, &c., during the late frost. The loss in the aggregate amounts to thousands of dollars.

DANGER.—In many places along the narrow plank-walk on the south side of Main Street at each end of town, we observe that planks are out, which renders night travel to those who are not fortunate enough to have a lantern exceedingly dangerous. Could not the defects be remedied?

ALL DISCHARGED.—Henry Johnson, the negro suspected of the murder of old man Shanks, was tried at Crab Orchard Friday and acquitted. The coroner's jury in the John Carr case met Saturday and examined two witnesses, but getting nothing tangible against Jim Ingram and Jim Emby, they were released, and the jury adjourned until next Monday, 27th. There appears now to be no clue to either case.

A CHOICE lot of both straight and Patent flour at McAllister & Bright's.

MISS Hot Nunnally, has dropped on board. See what he says elsewhere.

WE got left on the Ferrill shooting affair last issue, but it was the fault of the mails.

APPLES, BANANAS, COCONUTS, ORANGES, and Lemons, just received at McAllister & Bright's.

THE SOMERSET Reporter has put on Semi-Weekly airs, and is a right down interesting and spicy youngster. We wish Editor Rucker great success in his new venture.

HALE & NUNNELLEY are agents for the Grown & Stovier's Soap, and any one wishing it can get it from them without an order to the manufacturer, at the same price.

THOSE who have traveled over our mud roads lately say they have never known them to be so bad to get over as at present. This is sufficient argument for county and city appropriations of money for turnpikes. It could not be better invested.

ALL persons indebted to the late Dr. S. P. Craig, must settle their accounts before the 2nd Monday in March, (Quarterly Court), else they will be placed in the hands of an officer. Persons having claims against him will present them by that day properly attested. Jas. T. Craig, Adm'r.

NEW J. P.—The Governor has appointed Mr. J. P. Daniels, a Justice of the Peace for this county, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of "Squire John Cash. Mr. D. is a son-in-law of Mr. D. S. Jones, and from the lengthy petition to the Governor requesting his appointment, is a very popular man.

THERE is but one vacant store-house in Stanford, and that one a small affair, else it, too, would long since have been occupied. There is but one dwelling house in the town built to let, and that, too, could have been rented to any one of a half dozen applicants, had not the price asked and that offered materially varied. We need more business and dwelling houses, and if they could be had, our population would rapidly increase.

MALE DELAYED.—Owing to the washing away of a bridge across a branch of the Hanging Fork, the passenger train due here at 2 did not arrive till 11 P. M., and then the same train that went down returned, bringing only the passengers from the other train, who were able to make the long and muddy transfer. No mail, baggage or express was transferred, and the consequence was that we had no mail of any description from Friday till 2 P. M. yesterday. We know better now than ever how to appreciate the daily newspapers.

ANOTHER SHOOTING AFFAIR.—The devil seems to have been unloosed in this county last week. Besides the two assassinations, from a minor shot John Ferrill in the abdomen, inflicting a probably fatal wound. The row occurred Milledgeville during the progress of a third-class minstrel show. It appears that Briggsdale and Allie Minor were quarreling, when Ferrill attempted to quiet them. From an imagining, perhaps, that Ferrill was taking a hand against his brother, commenced firing at him, the third shot taking effect as above. No arrests have been made, and we have heard of no attempts in that direction, although writs were issued Friday, until yesterday, when Deputy Carpenter went to the scene. It was reported that Ferrill had died.

WORTHY OF PRAISE.—The Commonwealth's Attorney, R. C. Warren, cannot be given too much praise for the masterly manner in which he prosecuted the murder of Miss Betty Bland, in the Garrard Circuit Court. Thoroughly convinced of the guilt of the prisoner, he went into the case carefully fortified with all the facts and circumstances connected with it, and ready to meet the defense on every point. His statement of the case, his general management of it, and his final speech are all worthy of the highest credit. In fact we are told that his closing effort was not only the best he had ever made, but one of the grandest ever delivered in that Court building. As a fellow townsman we are proud of Mr. Warren, and expect to get prouder and prouder of him as he continues to wage up his battle against crime.

PENSION PRAGMATIC.—The Special Examiner from the Pension Bureau, who has been here on an investigating trip, says that there is a colored widow in this county, who has proven up her claim fairly to a pension, to all appearances, but that another colored woman at Memphis, of the same name, and claiming to be the widow of the same soldier, has also, to all appearances, proven that she is entitled to it. Evidently, one of these cases is bogus, but we are glad to say that the Examiner is of the opinion that the Lincoln county woman is the true claimant, and thinks she will receive the pension and bounty. He says hundreds of bogus claims have been filed, and many of them detected, yet the government is being robbed annually of thousands of dollars by fraudulent claimants.

EXPLANATORY.—On the night of the Tournament, Col. Welch, one of the Judges, used Capt. T. G. Moore's race-timing watch, and was thereby enabled to get the time down to the fine point of a quarter of a second. The ladies, and a number of men who were not up in racing matters, did not understand that the watch could be started and stopped six times in the short space of a second, and considerable dissatisfaction was expressed at the deliberate manner in which the Col. examined the piece after a race was run. Once in lifting the trap to look at it, the flame went out and after it was relighted, he quietly announced the time, and could have just as correctly done so an hour later as the watch had been instantly stopped at the tap of the drum. But expressions among the fair sex like these could be heard all around. "I know that's not right." "How can he tell after this long time?" "I say quarter of a second," &c. To those who made them and to others who did not understand, this explanation is very respectfully addressed.

A few days ago the Courier-Journal had an item telling how somebody had gotten hold of a $5 California gold bank note. Yesterday we were shown a $50 and a $10 of the same kind of money by Teller A. A. McKinney, of the National Bank, who says they are not so uncommon to come across as is supposed. The note is yellow and differs from the ordinary National Bank note by having pictures of gold dollars all over its back.

THE SKATING TOURNAMENT was a very gratifying success. The weather was good, the attendance very large, the sport exciting, in fact everything seemed to combine to make it one of the most delightful occasions of the season. The interest in it was not entirely confined to Stanford, for in the crowd were many handsome beaux and charming belles from the surrounding towns and counties. Promptly at 8 o'clock the preparations for the Tournament began. Fourteen thoroughbreds answered to the tap of the drum, championing their bits as if anxious for the contest. As before, Bill Penny sold as favorite in the imaginary pools, while Male Wearen was a good second. The field sold low, but as is usual in all races it was the safest to bet on. The circle of the Hall is about 150 feet, and the point was to take with a lance 6 rings hung from posts at equal distances around the circle on the first round, and then make two more rounds, the number of rings and the time required to make the three rounds to be considered in making the award. J. W. Engleman was first to contest. He skinned around very handsomely, took all the rings, and completed his three rounds in 27 1/2 seconds. T. H. Walton came next and secured a score of 5 rings in 29 1/2 seconds. Excitement grew to fever heat as the next contestant, W. B. Penny, was called to time and everybody expected to see him come off the victor, but he only succeeded in trying Mr. Engleman, although he had made the best time of all at the practice a few nights before. Male Wearen now became the favorite, and when he succeeded in making a record of 6 rings and 26 1/2 seconds, the contest seemed settled, and he went so far as to bargain with the jeweler about fixing the price so as to wear it on his watch chain. In the next four or five races there was nothing particular to change the opinion, but when Eddie Walton, the youngest of the contestants, entered the track and took all six rings in ten seconds, the crowd rose to its feet in anxious excitement and spurred him on with deafening cheers. He did around apparently unconfident of the great interest he has created and passes the string in 25 1/2 seconds. The crowd cheered itself hoarse when his record was put on the board, and the boy was nearly pulled to pieces by congratulating friends. There were three more entries, but the interest was gone, the thing was settled. After all had contested, the winner was called to the stand and presented with the prize, a $10 gold piece, which he received with a bow, amid an applause which shook the house. Below we give the record in full:

NAME. Rings. Time.

J. W. Engleman 6 27 1/2
T. H. Walton 5 29 1/2
W. B. Penny 5 30 1/2
Male Wearen 6 26 1/2
Eddie Walton 6 25 1/2
J. W. Engleman 6 27 1/2
T. H. Walton 5 29 1/2
W. B. Penny 5 30 1/2
Male Wearen 6 26 1/2
Eddie Walton 6 25 1/2

There were only three contestants for the ladies' prize, a gold locket, and they were little misses. They were given the right to choose a gentleman to skate with, and the following shows the time required to make three rounds:

Miss Jennie Richards and Edith Fennell 25 sec.
Miss Emma Butler and M. C. Western 25 sec.
Miss John Cooper and W. B. Penny 25 sec.

Little Bessie Richards was declared the winner, which seemed to give equally as much satisfaction as the other award. The Committee of Arrangements Messrs. R. W. Hocker, J. W. McAllister, G. H. Bruce and H. C. Bright deserve great credit for their management of the affair. Everything went like clock work, there being not the slightest hitch or jar. The Judge, Col. W. G. Welch, J. S. Hocker and J. S. Grimes, are also deserving of thanks for the careful and satisfactory manner with which they acted. After the Tournament the regular skating began again, and from that time till 10:30 the fun was fast and furious. At that hour the bell sounded the signal to take off skates, and the happy participants reluctantly departed for their homes. It was the intention of the management to close the skating season with the tournament and the regular season is now at an end, but by pressing requests the rink will be opened a few more nights or until further notice. Ladies admitted free, gentlemen will be taxed the modest sum of a quarter of a dollar.

MARRIAGES.

—John Cain obtained license yesterday to marry Miss Emma Jenkins, the 15-year-old daughter of Albert Jenkins.

—There will be a marriage near town next Thursday, but we "dunno choose to tell" who are to be the happy ones.

—At Frankfort, Miss Lullie, daughter of Attorney General Nuckolls, and Mr. W. A. Watkins, of New Albany, Ind., were united in matrimony.

RELIGIOUS.

—The Methodist church of Mt. Sterling is arranging to build a $12,000 house of worship.

—Sacramental service will be held at the Presbyterian church, beginning on Friday before the 1st Sunday in March.

—We give a very fine likeness of Miss Marie Barnes in this issue, which we know all of our readers will appreciate, for every body loves the dear girl who has so consecrated herself to the cause of Christ, and is aiding her good father so nobly in winning souls to his service.

—The Anti-Whisky Convention, at Lexington, composed of the ministers of the various denominations of the State, closed Saturday, after adopting a couple of yards of resolutions, and an address to the Legislature.

MISS MARIE S. BARNES.

lature. The preachers say they mean business, and are going to use their best endeavors to have the prohibition law passed.

—Rev. John Montgomery, now of Danville, who went to school to Rev. S. S. McRoberts, 29 years ago, in the old Seminary here, and who delivered his first sermon in the Presbyterian church of this place 24 years ago, since which time he had not visited the town, preached in the same church, Sunday, Mr. McElroy being detained at Perryville, in an interesting revival.

—Mr. Barnes, Miss Marie and the little organ have finished their work in Louisville, and on yesterday, went to Bowling Green. Sunday's services were the grand climax of his glorious work in that city, the confessions numbering 358 and the anointing 232. This makes the total 2,473 confessions and 2,385 anointings during his stay there, and runs up the grand total of his five years of evangelizing to 23,489. "Praise the Lord."

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

—Col. W. G. Welch has qualified as Administrator of John Shanks, and will sell his personality on the 25. See adv.

—The Bowling Green Gazette tells of the sale of one mule at $137.50; 19 at $152; a pair at $310; 10 at $110; and 5 for $525.

—Randall Litsay sold to Miller, of Missouri, 2 Jersey cows and 2 heifers, of the same breed, for $425.—[Harrodsburg Observer.]

—A Montgomery county man sold 70,000 feet of white oak lumber, measured in the tree, at 42 cents per hundred. It is to be worked into plow handles at the Mt. Sterling factory.

—The attendance at Robt. S. Scobee's sale yesterday, was not good, but stock brought fair prices. Sheep sold for $4 to $7; 1 pair mules, $250; 1 broke mule, $125; horses from $50 to $90; cows and heifers, $20 to $28; calves $11.50.—[Winchester Democrat.]

—DANVILLE COURT.—A very large crowd was in attendance and some 300 cattle were on the market, which very dull and draggy. Prices ranged from 2 1/2 to 5 for those sold. 50 to 75 mules were offered, and sold at $75 to $130. W. T. Baughman bought a two-year-old mule for $75.

—Auctioneer H. T. Bush, reports the sale of John Cash, deceased, as follows: Pair mules, $300; horses, $41 to $52; two-year-old cattle, supposed to weigh 1,000 lbs., $50.25 per head; yearling cattle, $29.10; 20 calves at $17.40; cows, $31 to $55; yearling heifers, $22; corn, $4.10 to $4.75 in crib; wheat, $1.22; hay, 70 cents per 100 lbs.; new shoulder bacon, 9 cts; hams, 15 cts and sides 13 cents. I don't think I ever cried a sale at which property sold for better prices.

LINCOLN COUNTY.

Hustonsville.

—What has become of the telephone enterprise? If Stanford don't wake up we will have to put up a wire and speak to her.

—The Hanging Fork was within a foot of the highest remembered flood, and the fencing along it looks very much as it did just after the march of Bragg's army.

—On Wednesday last, at McKinney, Wm. McCall had his left hand caught by a saw. The little finger was taken off, the next so badly lacerated that amputation had to be resorted to, and the thumb seriously injured.

—Reports from John Ferrill, who was shot at Milledgeville last week, are unfavorable. The ball entered the cavity of his body and has not been located. It is thought to have pursued a course similar to that which killed Garfield.

—The wandering troubadours, Bill and Matt Hook, gave a banjo exhibition at Powell's, on Saturday night. Have not yet been able to find any one willing to confess to having attended; hence can't give notes. This party was billed for Friday night; but it is said Bill's banjo was too drunk to go off.

—The most popular man in Hustonsville is our artistic butcher, Jim Weitsell. The busiest man is J. B. Green. The happiest man, John Reid. The most restless man, Soc Owens. The most amiable man, Freely Peacock. Miss Carrie Woods has been spending several days at her father's.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones, of Lexington, are visiting Mrs. S. A. Goode, mother of Mrs. J. Bad weather and high waters have operated against sociability of late.

—A deaf and dumb pantomime is in town proposing to give an entertainment. He was here last week, but left without an exhibition, alarmed, I understand, by a report that the boys were in the habit of closing such performances with an impromptu farce in the creek. "Hoccar Wilde would encounter a system of athletics here which could not possibly be classed as the beautiful or the true—a poem or a sublimation—yet, perhaps too intensely harmonious, and passionately appropriate to harmonize with a supremely etherealized delectation.

BOYLE COUNTY.

Danville.

—Circuit Court began this morning with thirty-five equity and ordinary appearances. The Faulkner-Mock murder case is set for the 4th day of the term.

—The following marriage licenses were issued by the County Clerk last week: Mr. S. K. Gentry to Miss Emma F. Rust; Mr. R. C. Newsum to Miss Jessie Hutchings; Mr. P. McCune to Miss Elizabeth Kinley.

—Martin Clark, colored, was shot thro' the hand and painfully wounded on Thursday night by Amanda Briscoe, a colored and a soiled dove. Briscoe was arrested and committed to jail in default of one hundred dollars bond to await the action of the Grand Jury.

—The Baptist revival, conducted by Rev. Wm. Porter, which has been in progress for two weeks at Perryville, closed on Sunday night with 163 additions. In view of this Bro. Barnes had better look out for the laurels. The thought of Bro. Barnes recalls what was said by one unsanctified young man of Danville who was in Monticello while Mr. Barnes was preaching there, said the U. Y. M. "Night before last a good many jined, and Mr. Barnes took in Col. Wolford, Judge Owsley and Dick Warren and grieved 'em."

—John B. Thompson, of Harrodsburg, has made over 200,000 gallons of whisky this season.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

LOST.—About two weeks ago, a 3-year-old Cow, red with white spot in forehead and one horn slightly turned down. Fresh to milky. Will give a reward for her return. Dr. L. F. Huffman, Stanford.

COMMERCIAL HOTEL, STANFORD, KY. G. M. NUNNELLEY, PROPRIETOR.

I have taken this Hotel in charge, and propose keeping it first-class in every particular. Transient board, 11 per day. Men on public days, 25 cents. (19-12)

FAVORITE MILLS, MCKINNEY, KY.

For the benefit of old customers and friends and the general public, we take pleasure in announcing that our new Mill at McKinney is now in running order, and ready for your wheat. We regret very much that its completion was prolonged beyond our expectations, and that so many of our unimpaired friends were thereby put to the old inconvenience of milling elsewhere; but we cannot now to witless this sort apology in your ears, that we have at your service as good a Mill as there is in the State. The kind and encouraging expressions of many friends along our new location have been very gratifying, and we hope now that our system of accommodations, and the pains we shall take with your grain, will make no show of your confidence. In order to make an institution full worthy of your patronage, it was placed under the supervision and actually built by one of the most skilled mechanics in the country, having attached all the latest improvements in Mill Machinery and finished in the best of style. Our local issue will be "Favorite Mills." We feel now that the only necessary consideration on the part of our customers is the honesty of the miller, which if he has never known, he will endeavor to cultivate. Truly obedient, we are yours.
